

Website pitch

I would like to create a portfolio website that showcases my floral design creations. The purpose would be to show potential clients what I have created for past projects. My intended audience would be females between the ages of 16-70, who are planning a wedding or formal date, and are in need of quality floral design services.